

EZRA JACK KEATS

“If we could see each other exactly as the other is, this would be a different world.”

Ezra Jack Keats (1916–1983) is considered one of America’s greatest children’s book author/illustrators and a leader in the field of diversity in children’s literature.

JewishAmericanHeritage.org

Powered by:

WEITZMAN NATIONAL MUSEUM OF
AMERICAN JEWISH HISTORY
A Smithsonian Institution Affiliate

©2025

PROUDLY FUNDED BY
UJA Federation
NEW YORK

Image: © Ezra Jack Keats
Foundation ejkf.org